We're a Credit Union...and that means something! We're owned by our members, not by stockholders. So although we give you all the services a bank does, the only people who profit are those who worked for the money in the first place, which only seems fair. Qualstar products and services are priced affordably and easy to use. Decide what is best for you and then get ready to start receiving the service you deserve.

- Savings Accounts: Our basic account - no minimum to earn dividends.
